Project description

This project is the result of a joint venture between M&C Holding, a private development company, and Cho Ray Hospital, the largest state-owned hospital in Ho Chi Minh City.

Llewelyn Davies has been appointed to design a new private hospital, the Elective Care Centre (ECC) located within Cho Ray Hospital campus. The ECC will be a self-sufficient facility, accommodating elective care beds, outpatient care, an intensive care unit, and its own diagnostic and treatment facilities (with the exception of emergency department, as patients will be referred from the existing A&E at Cho Ray Hospital into the Elective Care Centre). The provision for the Inpatient Accommodation would be of 610-beds, distributed in different room types ranging from 4 bed bays to VIP and presidential suites.

The aim of the proposal is to deliver a hospital which has the feel of a resort facility, combining high quality materials, improved space standards, the latest technologies in clinical equipment, and areas for relatives, including sky gardens and amenities for ambulatory patients and visitors.
